

RALEIGH IN BRIEF.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN AND AROUND THE CAPITAL.

Short Items of News Gathered on the Fly by the Chronicle's Reporters.

The register of deeds reported four marriage licenses issued yesterday.

Two handsome residences are being completed on South Person street.

Two convicts were received at the penitentiary from Union county yesterday.

Mr. Robert Redford has accepted a position on the Seaboard Air Line as baggage master.

The 106th N. C. Supreme Court Report is in press and will be ready for distribution in a few days.

Bishop Lyman is having built a neat cottage in the rear of his mansion. It will be occupied by Randall, the artist.

Now listen. Every member of the Y. M. D. C. is expected to attend the meeting on next Tuesday night. It will be the time for the final arrangements for an important occasion.

Some young coons attracted attention yesterday by holding a boxing match on court house square. A ring was marked, boxing gloves were used, seconds were chosen and the match was strictly up to the Marquis of Queensbury rules.

There are eight Raleighs in the U. S. not including Raleigh, N. C. There is a Raleigh in Alabama, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, Tennessee and W. Virginia, and North Carolina. Lots of people didn't know this.

Mr. A. B. Forest sustained a severe cut on the back of his head yesterday. He went to a tree on which was hanging a scythe, and reached up to take it down. He grew dizzy and fell backward, the scythe falling behind him. He fell on the blade and his neck and the back of his head were quite badly cut.

COMING AND GOING.

Some of The Folks You Know and Their Doings.

Col. J. S. Carr and Mrs. Carr, of Durham were here yesterday.

Mr. C. T. Bailey, Jr., has returned from a visit to New York.

Mrs. H. G. Turner, of Georgia, is in the city visiting at Dr. V. E. Turner's, her brother-in-law.

Mr. John P. Murphy, a member of the city council of Knoxville, Tenn., is in the city. He represents his city as still growing.

Weather Report.

Raleigh yesterday: Maximum temperature 82; minimum temperature 57; rainfall, 0.00.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity to-day: Fair weather; stationary temperature; southerly winds.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Forecast for North Carolina: Stationary temperature; westerly winds; cooler Sunday.

For Virginia: Rain, stationary temperature; southerly winds; cooler; northwesterly winds.

A Breeze on the Tobacco Market.

The Raleigh tobacco market fairly humped itself yesterday. Every warehouse in the city was full of golden leaves, but the biggest sale was at the Farmers' Alliance warehouse. There wasn't any room on that floor when the many wagons had emptied their contents on to it, and when the buyers descended upon the tobacco and saw the magnificent collection of the fine, firm product, their mouths just watered to get it, and this anxiety caused some spirited bidding, and that bidding sustained the reputation of Raleigh as the best priced tobacco market in the State. It always has been the best since its establishment.

The sales of yesterday were the largest of the season and the prices were eminently satisfactory.

A Lady Attacked by a Dog on the Street.

A day or two since, Mrs. Webster, a Northern lady who is stopping at Mrs. Beckwith's boarding house, was taking a walk on Blount street. Following her was a pet lap dog, and this little animal was attacked by a large Newfoundland dog. Mrs. Webster attempted to defend her pet, and she was attacked by the large dog, which knocked her down, but her through the wrist, and would probably have injured her more seriously but for the aid of a colored man who came up opportunely. Mrs. Webster is experiencing some inconvenience now from the attack of the brute.

"Three Fast Men."

This is the name of the play which opened the theatrical season in Metropolitan hall last night. It is a roaring, farcical comedy and a first rate production of its kind; but the "kind" is one which would not be largely patronized by audiences of culture and refinement.

The specialists of the company, clog dancers and comedians, were as good as usually appear before the public.

Killed by a Train.

The Keyville train which came in last evening brought the body of a man who was killed at Haw river by a train yesterday morning. The name of the unfortunate was Julius Carpenter.

The remains were put in charge of Undertaker Brown, of this city, who will obtain the necessary information for making a proper disposition of the body.

A Relic of the Confederacy.

Mr. J. C. Birdsong, State Librarian, is showing a piece of the flag pole which bore the flag of the Confederacy over the headquarters at Richmond during the dark days.

The piece of wood bears the name of the man who cut it off and also shows an affidavit that the black is genuine.

THE ASSOCIATION OF DEMOCRATIC CLUBS.

The Convention Next Week—And Some of the Features.

Next Wednesday and Thursday, the State Association of Democratic Clubs will meet in this city.

There will be a large and brilliant representation from all the important towns in the State, and the gathering will be one of bright and live and brainy men.

Senators Vance and Ransom and Congressman Bunn, and other prominent men will be here.

On Thursday a grand barbecue will be given at Brookside Park, and everybody in the county is invited to come out. There will be barbecue and lemonade, &c., for five thousand people, and the people of the county are expected to come out and eat it. Large seating capacity will be provided in the park, and able speakers will talk to the people there.

HURRAH FOR WAKE FOREST.

An Enthusiastic Y. M. D. C. Organized—And Delegates Elected to the Convention.

The Democratic voters of Wake Forest township organized a Democratic Club here on the 18th inst. Mr. W. C. Brewer, the old war-horse of many a political battle was unanimously elected President, E. W. Sikes was made Vice-President and J. E. Fowler Secretary.

Messrs. E. W. Sikes, R. L. Burns, W. A. Osborne, Geo. E. Gill, C. M. Walters, Dr. W. C. Lankford, and W. C. Brewer were appointed delegates to the State convention which meets in Raleigh on the 24th and 25th inst.

Many interesting and enthusiastic speeches were made.

Let every township in Wake county do likewise, and we predict that after the next election she can once more hold her head above the turbid waters of Republican infamy, and boast with Catwallow, Cleveland and "God blessed" Sampson, that her Republican party is dead.

Special Exercises of the Fair at Night.

The meeting of Tuesday night, October 14th, of fair week, will be to consider stock raising in North Carolina. On Wednesday night the topic will be industrial education and experimental farming. Thursday night will be devoted to a general discussion of the practical needs and prospects of farming in North Carolina.

On Friday night will be the grand educational meeting. All these meetings will be in the Commons Hall.

Prominent speakers specially acquainted with and interested in their respective subjects, have been invited to take part in the several discussions.

Some thing definitely practical is expected to grow out of at least two of these meetings. They are intended for the general public as well as for those particularly interested, and the hall will play every evening in the hall until the commencement of the exercises.

Chief Marshal Selected.

One of the most important matters in the management of a fair is the appointment of an efficient Chief Marshal. Upon him, very largely depends the general expression of the whole affair; also the general order of processions and all movements outside of the grounds. The Chief Marshal with his aids, should form a cavalcade of gallant horsemen, pleasing to the eye, and stirring everybody to join the procession, and march to the fair grounds. President Upchurch, to whom the matter was referred, has selected Mr. William Grimes, of Raleigh. Mr. Grimes accepts and will handsomely meet the requirements.

An Editor in Glory.

Day before yesterday the engine on the Oxford & Henderson railroad got off the track. All the passengers vacated the car except Editor Britt, of the Oxford Ledger, who retained his seat. It was found necessary to move the passenger car, and it required about fifty hands to perform the task. While this was being done, the aforesaid editor could be seen in the car reading his own paper, and as unconcerned, and apparently in as much glory as editors generally get to be in this life. He contended that his free press entitled him to a ride, and he was just bound to have it, engine or no engine.

Opposed to Grand Stand Rents.

I have heard it said on the street that the managers of the State Fair propose to charge ten cents admission to the Grand Stand in the Fair Ground—in addition to the price of general admission at the gate. This is all wrong and should not be considered for a moment. The Grand Stand is as much a part of the fair grounds as Floral Hall or Machinery Hall and has always been free. The people will not stand it and many are already saying that it is an outrage. Better reconsider the matter gentlemen.

Colored Masons.

At a meeting last night of Widow's Son Lodge, No. 4, the following officers were elected: W. F. Debnam, W. M.; Chester Craven, S. W.; Essex Blake, J. W.; Thomas Bradford, Treas.; J. W. Pope, Sec.

Lecture at Edenton Street Church.

Prof. Dinwiddie, Principal of Peace Institute, will lecture at Edenton Street church on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

TELEGRAPHIC FLASHES.

[By United Press.]

TROY, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Read, Cain and Buell, the men charged with a conspiracy to wreck a Central Hudson train in the town of East Greenbush on the night of September 4, entered pleas of not guilty in Court of Sessions this morning before Judge Griffith, and Kieran and Cordial were discharged.

The trials of Reed, Cain and Buell were set down for next Tuesday. Kieran was re-arrested by Detective Humphrey of the Central Hudson road on a warrant charging the crime of displacing a switch of the company between Albany and Karner's.

ELECTION REGISTRATION.

The registration books will open to-day, September 20th, at the following places, and will remain open for thirty days, Sundays excepted:

2d Ward—At Stronach's warehouse, South Wilmington street, W. M. Lambeth, registrar.

3d Ward—At John Y. McKee's drug store; John Y. McKee, registrar.

4th Ward—At city lot, corner Salisbury and Davis streets; Ed Dobbin, registrar.

5th Ward—At D. G. Conn's, corner Salisbury and Jones streets; D. G. Conn, registrar.

Outside East—Joseph Black registrar; books open at Pace's store, Lousiboro road.

Outside West—T. D. Watson, registrar; at Watson's store, Hillsboro road.

One of Raleigh's Schools.

Among the private schools of Raleigh, none are more thoroughly preparatory than the school of Mr. C. C. Holden, on Blount Street.

Mr. Holden, though a young man, has studied at the University of Virginia, Johns Hopkins, Harvard, Berlin (Germany), and other home and foreign institutions. His travels have been very extensive, and his combined experience thoroughly equips him for teaching and imparting instruction. The enrollment of his school is not large but select, and his pupils have all the advantages that thorough training and large experience can bring them through a tutor.

Mr. Holden, at one time, was associated with Prof. Mauphin, who aided in the revision of Gildersleeve's Latin Primer—a book now almost universally used.

In his travels, Mr. Holden has set foot on every continent in the world except South America, and has many languages at easy command.

In opening his school he at once commanded the patronage of many thinking parents. His terms are not the lowest, but his work is fully commensurate with what his charges are. Were his terms the same as those of most preparatory schools, his patronage would be too large for his management. His opening this year was under bright auspices, with an increased enrollment, and his patronage will doubtless reach his highest limit.

The Second Consignment.

That popular and reliable old veteran meat man, J. Schwartz, has just received a second consignment of those magnificent beef cattle on which he has made such a reputation. "Schwartz's beef" has become a household word now, and it invariably means the best beef that can be had from anywhere. He frequently makes a parade of his beef cattle, and when they go up the street there is a rush to the doors to see them. He always shows superb animals, and people's mouths water for the meat which he sells over his counters. He makes a specialty of corned beef (his own make) and delivers it at from eight to ten cents per pound. He gives strict attention to other meats and his pork is as fine as the finest. He serves out the choicest pork at from ten to twelve cents. He sells beef from 6 to 8 to 10 to 12 cts. Every one is invited to stop at his meat market on Fayetteville street and see it and be convinced that he keeps the finest beef in the city.

A Case for the Police.

A fight occurred on the corner of Martin and Wilmington streets yesterday (only a fight of words, however), between two distinguished parties as to the bulk of Carpet sales of the stores in town which keep Carpets. One man argued that the other stores sold more Carpets, and his antagonist argued that Swindell sold the most Carpets; and finally the affair was settled, and no blood shed, both agreeing that Swindell sold more Carpets last week than did any one else in Raleigh. "Why," said one to the other, "I have seen Swindell's delivery wagon every day for the last ten days at least five times a day go off from the store loaded with Carpets alone. And why did they double the size of their carpet room at Swindell's? Simply because they could not accommodate the trade unless they did enlarge. Now they have the largest carpet room in the city." Well, the police did not arrest these men, but such harangues must not occur again. One of these men stepped in and asked Swindell if he would pay the fine if he licked the other fellow. Swindell told him no, and he went home quietly.

CAROLINA SOLDIERS AT FREDERICKSBURG.

Their Graves Becoming Obliterated—Shall this be?

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 19th, 1890.

TO THE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA:

In the Confederate cemetery at Fredericksburg, Va., there are one hundred and sixty-four North Carolina soldiers whose graves are without headstones. It will require three hundred and twenty-eight dollars to purchase them. Virginia, Maryland, South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Florida and Texas have placed headstones at the graves of each of their dead soldiers. Will not the men and women of North Carolina do as much for their brave, dead soldiers?

Contributions for this purpose will be gratefully received and acknowledged through the columns of the STATE CHRONICLE and the News and Observer. Money may be sent to Jos. G. Brown, cashier Citizens' National Bank.

DAN'L G. FOWLE.

The following contributions have been received:
Dan'l G. Fowle, $10.00; A. M. Scales, $10.00; Thos. S. Kenan, $5.00; Thos. F. Davidson, $5.00.

Died.

Mr. Henry C. Prempert died in Wilmington last Wednesday. He was a native of Germany, and came to this country in 1854. He was a resident of Raleigh from 1868 to 1873, and is well remembered by many people here. He was a charter member of the Goldsboro Rifles, and as such was one of the first to answer the call of Governor Ellis to take possession of Fort Macon. After this he joined company H, Second North Carolina Regiment, and served as Regimental Drum-Major until the end of the civil war. He was a gallant Confederate soldier. He was sixty-four years old.

THE WORLD'S COMMERCE.

New York, September 19.—Messrs. Hubbard, Price & Company, in their cotton circular to-night say: Reports from Liverpool are of as gloomy a tone as can be imagined. Operators abroad appear to be unanimously of the opinion that lower prices must be faced before any good can be found in cotton, and the effect of this opinion can be discovered in the lower market reported this morning.

Our market was oversold and quickly responded to the poor crop accounts which are daily being received from the South, especially from Alabama and Georgia. Mississippi also reports damage from the recent rain storms; bolls rotting and in some cases sprouting. The Southern markets are strong, and the receipts of cotton here are on the increase. It is expected the stock here will slowly increase, but contracts are now below a parity with the Southern market. No growth of confidence is shown by operators in to-day's advance as it is thought to reflect local covering alone. The interior movement promises to be about 32,000 bales, against 43,000 last year—rather less than was expected. Receipts at the ports estimated at 25,000 bales, against 13,587 bales last week, and 15,800 bales last year.

Spot cotton market is easy at 1-16; decline; middling uplands 10-12; sales 239 bales.

Transactions in futures 42,000 bales. Futures closed 3 to 5 points lower as follows:
